

THE CONDITION AND PROSPECTS OF THE NEGRO RACE.

We have on more than one occasion, expressed our views of the process by which Slavery will be abolished or eradicated from this country. We are not among those who see nothing but evil growing out of the relation of master and slave; we discern great good in the end, even to the slave himself. This may be regarded by mere casualists, men whose consciences are every day changing, arrange the scales of justice to each new phase of the object—as perhaps altogether heterodox. Be it so. Neither the practice or the law can be changed by mere opinions from any source. If there be evils in slavery there are also accruing advantages.

If it be wrong in the abstract, and we might be willing perhaps to concede as much, it has left a relative bearing. If there is wrong in slavery, the great foundations of that wrong were laid in its introduction into this country. After it was fairly planted here, at all events since we became a Nation, all sensible men will concede that it has assumed a compound aspect. Its origin may be condemned, but that does not remove the evil, nor can it be removed by force, without breaking the very foundations of society. It is not a thing of a day; it has required a long time to fasten it upon the country, and it will require a long time to remove it. It is not a mere commercial question, an over importation of merchandise, causing derangement of the monetary affairs of the country; but it enters into the moral and social education of a large portion of our people; it has become a part of our great industrial system, its effects entering into every branch of business, and largely controlling the habits, opinions, and the happiness of our fellow citizens. Mere expedients, however well directed, are inadequate to its removal, and especially so, as those who would urge them live far away from slavery, know little about its practical workings, and are wholly irresponsible meddlers in a matter in which they can do no good and may do much harm.

Slavery will be abolished by its contact with free labor; but never by the vain talk of outsiders, who would denounce it out of existence after the fashion of Ampudia Proclamations against the barbarians of North America, in the late war with Mexico. We have little faith in arms length philanthropy in any case, and none at all in that which is expended by northern fanaticism, upon our brethren of the South. All must see that it has no other effect than to exasperate those whom it is proposed to influence.

Let us bring a little practical life to bear upon the subject. What would you think of a religionist who desired to build up a distant church, and came to you with violent denunciation of yourselves and neighbors, and with demands for aid in the proposed work? What would you think of the lawyer who would denounce and revile his jury, calling them thieves and robbers, preparatory to asking a verdict at their hands in favor of his client? What would be thought of a candidate for office who should think to gain favor by pronouncing the voters an ignorant and stupid race of dolts? Of the courtier who would preface his request by harsh epithets against the authority which might grant it? So with reference to the removal of slavery, it is possible that it can be hastened by denunciation of those who alone have the power to act in the premises? But what was the condition of the slave before he came from Africa? Is it not better than it was there? The Baptist denomination alone, in the Southern States, have 250,000 communicants. This is five times as great an advance as ever has been made in Africa. The Western coast of Africa contains the Colonization Society—a germ of christianity and civilization that had never existed there but for the existence of slavery here. In these things we see how Providence is ever ruling human slavery for good—how, through its instrumentalities, perhaps all Africa is to be redeemed, christianized and civilized. Is it not certain that without the momentum of Slavery in this country, the Colonization of Africa would never have taken place; and is it not equally certain that without such Colonization, no essential progress in christianity and civilization in that country would have been secured?

The condition of Slavery is bad enough; but the condition of Africa, by common consent, is worse. African barbarity, and African Slavery long ante date our Slavery; and, indeed, gave rise to it. We have no means of explaining the designs of Providence in permitting Africa to remain so long in the thick darkness of absolute barbarism; but may we not charitably infer that improvement was intended even through the agency of American Slavery? We would as soon draw in question the Divine wisdom in permitting African as American Slavery; and as soon enter into a verbal crusade against the latter. We repeat again, slavery will be abolished; it will be abolished by the inevitable law of population; by the contact of the two classes of labor, white and black, the former being the most intelligent and productive, will certainly destroy the latter. We may talk till dooms-day, but not an inch will we advance beyond what is accomplished by the competition of classes.—This may be termed a cold and heartless theory; no matter it is Truth, and we prefer Truth to all the intemperance of philanthropy, or the mysteries of insane benevolence. All experience has, or ought to have taught us of the correctness of this theory; for we have not witnessed the least practical good in all past agitations of Slavery. It has neither been abolished or lessened in its extent, or in the burthens imposed upon the Slave. Agitation has the aim and the form of philanthropy; but it has borne none of its fruits. It is to the latter that our people should look to determine its merits.—This is not a day for extreme opinions touching either economical, moral, or religious subjects; the public mind is now eminently practical. It will be satisfied with no vain programme of visionary and hysterical philanthropist; it will have good works and good ends—it will look to the soul of benevolence in such things, and not to the body, which exists to-day and is dead to-morrow.

We have been led to these remarks by a letter from Mr. Clay, which we give in another column, from the Kingston (Ja.) Despatch, just now re-published in this country. The source of the letter not less than the spirit of fairness which pervades it will secure it an attentive perusal.

To insure a cure only follow directions. This Oak-Oil being very lately made public, the proprietor would refer to the best men and families in the State, for its wonderful curative properties. The afflicted can easily write to any of the persons certifying to its merits. This Oak-Oil needs only to be used, to be appreciated in any case that the flesh of man is heir to; and all this can be done without paying a professional man a dollar a visit—by only exercising a little good common sense and by applying effectually the Oak-Oil.

Detroit, August 5th 1851.
Certificate of the right Rev. Peter Paul Lefevre, Bishop, Coadjutor, &c., of the Catholic church of the Diocese of Detroit.

Mr. James Scribner—Esteemed Sir: Please allow me to say to you, that notwithstanding my very great aversion to cure all medicines, I have applied your Oak Oil to my head which relieves it of an apparent load of weight, and gives me a very pleasant sensation; the same to my eyes, and I have used it in case of the chafe, with very gratifying and healing effects. And sir, I wish you would have a supply of it left some where in this city, that I may direct other persons as to its very happy effects.

Yours, with great respect,
PETER P. LEFEVRE, B. C. C. D. D.

Detroit August 7th 1851.
Certificate of Mr. Jeremiah Godfrey, for sixteen years a resident of Detroit, twelve years of the firm of Atkinson & Godfrey, formerly of Illinois N. Y.

Mr. James Scribner—Dear sir: Please allow me to certify that I have been a sufferer from diseases of various kinds from 1831 up to this date, and at one time did quit my business of Painting, on the advice of a physician, and returned to the painting business and followed it until about a year since, during which time, and until I met you, and you administered your Oak Oil to me I never knew what it was to enjoy a well day, and I have been relieved of a partial deafness, my head has become clear, and in short, I feel as if I had been entirely made over, and as it were, entered upon life all of a new; and, indeed, I owe so much to you or your Oak Oil, that I am willing to do or say anything to induce you to extend the knowledge of your Oak Oil throughout the entire world, and the Oil which the knowledge, and please allow me to further say that I have sent dozens of persons afflicted with sore eyes, sore heads, deafness and burns, to your Depot, and I have heard but one opinion from hundreds in the city of Detroit, and that is that the Oak Oil has helped and cured them, and if I can do any thing to help you in any other way, you are at liberty to call and command it of me.

Yours, with esteem,
JEREMIAH GODFREY.

This Oak-Oil may be freely used, as it is true that if there is no disease, there is no effect produced other than a prevention of disease; and the afflicted have only to inquire of any person who has used this invaluable curative, (Oak-Oil), to know the above facts. JAMES SCRIBNER, Proprietor.

For sale by Ferry & Sons, C. B. Albee, Henry Griffin, Harry Eaton, F. S. Gilbert and at the office of the Grand River Times, by Barnes & Angel, general agents for Grand Haven and surrounding country.

P. S. The Oak-Oil is superior to Sloan's medicines in all diseases of horses—applied according to directions given in cases of human diseases.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED.

IN all the states in the Union, to canvass for the following important and valuable works which are sold by subscription.

We have now about one hundred agents in the field, many of them clearing from two to five dollars per day. It will be seen that our books are of a very popular and desirable kind, and calculated to please almost every taste. Lives of James Madison and James Monroe—fourth and fifth Presidents of the United States by John Quincy Adams, to which is added a history of their Administration. 1 vol. 12 mo. 435 pp., with Steel Portraits, cloth, price $1.25.

This new and popular volume, being the only authentic record of the lives and public career of Presidents Madison and Monroe, has already passed through several large editions, over six thousand copies having been sold within the first six months of its publication, and the demand still continues unabated.

Extracts from Letters received by the publishers.

It is really a valuable addition to American Biography, as it is a gratifying proof of the enterprise and public spirit of the publishers. Z. TAYLOR.

Such a work may be read with profit and advantage by all who take a lively interest in the eminent men of our country. H. CLAY.

Fremont's Exploring Expedition, through the Rocky Mountains, Oregon and California, additional "El Dorado" matter with several portraits and illustrations—435 pp., 12 mo. Cloth or sheep, price $1.25.

Oregon and California.—"The Exploring Expedition to the Rocky Mountains, Oregon and California, by Bvt. Col. J. C. Fremont." It is a fair 12 mo. of 436 pp., just issued by G. H. Derby & Co., Buffalo.

Now that the hopes of getting them out of Congressmen is at an end, while three-fourths of the applications must have been unsuccessful, we advise the Californians to walk up to the Captain's office and buy Mr. Derby's edition. The letter press is far better than that of Congress. N. Y. Trib. Life of General Andrew Jackson.—New edition, revised and enlarged, with Bancroft's Enology. Steel portraits—400 pages, cloth or sheep, $1.25.

Of the work before us we think we may safely say that its editor has striven to divest his mind of all other considerations that the one which should possess it—the considerations that he was writing the life of a great man, whose deeds were the property of the nation to which he belonged, and not to any sect or class.—Buffalo Courier.

Young's Science of Government.—New and improved edition, 300 pp., in Morocco binding, price $1.25.

Questions of public policy, not merely affecting the interests of our country, but involving constitutional principles, and even liberty itself are not infrequently decided by the ballot box. Yet multitudes of our citizens presume to exercise the prerogative of freeman without knowing the duties and responsibilities of freeman. The poll lists of our States are annually swelled by thousands of new voters, who have never given the Constitution so much as a single reading.

Oregon.—Its history, condition, prospects, geography, climate and productions, with personal adventures among the Indians during a residence on the plains bordering the Pacific while connected with the Oregon Mission, embracing extended notes of a voyage around the world. By the Rev. Gustavus Hines. 355 pp., 12 mo., sheep or cloth binding, price $1.25.

In Oregon, the Author's first enjoyment was an exploratory tour among the Indians of the Umpqua River, which empties into the Pacific. The one supplies us with some geographical information and a mixed account of the Indians of that country. Mr. Hines has the advantage of a comparative unstudied field, and his book will be of interest beyond the limits of his missionary friends as a contribution to the local history of Oregon.—Literary World.

Tucker's History of the Holland Purchase, of Western New York, with eight portraits of early pioneers. Maps and plates, 700 pp., 8 vo., cloth or sheep, price $3.50.

Library of Natural History.—1 vol. royal octavo with 400 engravings, compiled from the works of writers on Natural History. Cloth, extra binding, price $3.50.

Cyclopedia of Useful and Entertaining Knowledge; forming a complete Library of useful and entertaining knowledge, &c., &c. By W. R. Murray Esq. Embellished with 350 engravings, 1 vol. royal 8 vo., Morocco, extra binding. Price $3.50.

A Newspaper publishing this advertisement entire (including notice,) and giving it one or more insertions, shall receive two copies of the $1.25 book, or for six insertions, with an editorial notice, shall receive a copy of the $5 work, or four $1.25 books, subject to their order.

All letters should be post paid.

For further particulars apply post paid, to GEO. H. DERBY & Co., Publishers, Buffalo.

To each subscriber who may send to the office of publication, one dollar; seven copies for five dollars, fifteen copies for ten dollars. Edited by Professor ABBOTT. 143 Nassau Street, New York.

INSURANCE.—The undersigned is agent for the HARTFORD AETNA and PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANIES. The companies are possessed of a large surplus capital, reserved solely to meet losses, and by their fair, honorable and prompt payment of all damages for which they have been liable, and their well tested ability, have placed themselves at the very head of all Insurance Companies. Each of them recently paid to the citizens of St. Louis one hundred and forty thousand dollars, without requiring them to wait the sixty days to which their rules entitle them. These Companies levy no assessments upon the insured.

He is also agent for the TRENTON INSURANCE Co., which divides its profits among the insured. This is a new company and is doing a heavy business. The undersigned is also agent for the NEW YORK LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY, which ranks among the most able and safe institutions of the kind in the world. F. H. CEMING.

ARTISTS' UNION OF CINCINNATI.

THE "Artists' Union" is established in the city of Cincinnati, for the promotion of the tastes for the Fine Arts, and the encouragement of the great body of artists residing in the western States. The plan of the institution unites great public good with private gratification, at a mere nominal expense.

The annual subscription of membership is five dollars, which entitles members to all its privileges. The amount obtained from subscriptions, (after paying necessary expenses), is appropriated to the production of two fine engravings, of which every subscriber receives a copy of each for every five dollars paid—to the publication of a monthly journal devoted to literature and art—and to the purchase of American Works of Art, which will be publicly distributed by lot among all the members, on the first of September of each year. The Paintings distributed will be richly framed at the expense of the Institution.

Subscribers for 1851 receive a copy of Mount's celebrated picture of "Catching Rabbits," and a beautiful print of "Washington," after Stuart's celebrated Portrait, which is admitted to be the best now in existence.

There have been about ninety paintings already purchased for distribution, nearly every artist of merit in the West being represented in the collection, among whom may be mentioned, Mrs. Lilly M. Spencer, T. W. Whittidge, W. L. Sonntag, R. S. Duncanson, G. N. & J. P. Frankenstein, Charles Soule, J. O. Eaton, Emile Bott, V. M. Griswold, W. H. Beards, J. Cox, B. M. McConkey, G. W. White, Chas. Rogers, J. R. Johnson, and others.

Among the paintings to be distributed are the following: Domestic Happiness, by Mrs. L. M. Spencer, considered her best work; The Season, by W. L. Sonntag; The Old Mill, by the same; Crawford's Battle Ground, by V. M. Griswold; River Raftin Battle Ground, by R. S. Duncanson; two marine views by Jas. Hamilton; several sketches by Thos. Birch; three of Whittidge's best Landscapes; three of G. N. Frankenstein's Kentucky Views; four landscapes by Duncanson; two by V. M. Griswold; five by W. L. Sonntag; three of Francis' celebrated Still Life pictures; a fancy head, Genevieve, by J. O. Eaton; and Viola, by Chas. Soule. Besides these there are about sixty other paintings, mostly by western artists; in addition to which others will be added as fast as subscriptions are received.

Additional information in regard to the plan and objects of the above institution, will be furnished by Honorary Secretaries, who are appointed in all the principal places in the Union.

In places where there are no Hon. Secretaries, subscriptions can be forwarded to THOS. FARRIS & Co., acting managers of the Artist's Union of Cincinnati. Subscriptions received by HENRY PENNOYER, Hon. Secretary for Grand Haven and vicinity.

THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE AND JOURNAL.

PUBLISHED weekly, at 200 Mulberry street, New York. One dollar and twenty-five cents, payable in all cases, in advance, either at this office, or to an authorized agent, who will inform us of the fact. When this is done, and not till then, will the paper be forwarded.

Subscribers who commence after the beginning of the volume, will pay in advance to the end of the year at the rate of two and a half cents per number.

Agents.—The itinerant ministers and preachers of the M. E. Church are the authorized agents of all our publications, to whom payment may be made for any of our periodicals.

Agents will be allowed 20 cents for each new subscriber whose name they forward, accompanied with the cash, and ten per cent for all monies collected on old subscriptions.

Agents will be entitled to the paper by paying one dollar in advance, (or by forwarding five new subscribers,) or by collecting and paying over ten dollars on old subscriptions.

Agents are requested to forward by mail all monies received for periodicals, at the risk of the Concern, when the sum amounts to one dollar or more taking care always to send the largest and most current notes, or good drafts, stating to whom remittances are to be credited, together with the Conference, Post office, county and State. This liberal rule must also be observed when change of direction or discontinuance of a periodical is ordered. All communications to the publishers or editors, unless containing remittances, new subscribers, or an order for books, must be post-paid. JOSEPH LONGKISS, Printer.

THE DOLLAR MAGAZINE.

A MONTHLY miscellany of agreeable literature, for the whole country. The cheapest original periodical now published.

This established Periodical, on the basis of the popular and widely-extended list of Holden's Dollar Magazine, at the lowest price, unexceptionable on the score of taste and morality, with no sectional or sectarian biases, will furnish to its readers, from month to month, the most agreeable Novelties which ingenuity can devise or activity successfully present to the public.

The pages of each issue of the Dollar Magazine will embrace Contributions by the most Eminent hands—Portraits—Fiction—Philosophy—Sketches—Poetry—Humor—Personal reminiscences—Travels—Society in the City, Country and Wilderness; and the most complete summary of the conversation, Literature, Arts, Speculation, and agreeable news of the month.

The Pictorial Illustrations will be select and of a definite character—not picked up at random—but adapted in time, character, and choice, to the wants of the Magazine and its readers. Of these one of the most striking series will be a Gallery of Portraits of American Representative men, designed and engraved expressly for the Dollar Magazine, with interesting personal notices from original and authentic sources.

The Fiction—the Tales and Adventures, will be of a striking character, such as read aloud would arrest the attention of the Family circle; and agreeable, not merely from their narrative and incident but also for their clearness of style and sympathy with the purest and profoundest emotions of our nature. Town life, and Country life will be pleasantly and faithfully represented. A series of Pictures of Fashionable life will be presented. There will also be, handled in an attractive manner sketches and illustrations of American Everyday Trade and Commerce.

In fine, with pleasure and novelty in their best sense, for a motto, it is the design to meet the reader monthly with the most tasteful, entertaining, and harmonious Miscellany which ample resources, diligence, and a determination not to be outstripped by any competitor in the field, can achieve.

The terms of subscription of the Dollar Magazine are one dollar per annum, payable in advance, to be remitted to the publishers E. A. & G. L. DRYCKINCK 109 Nassau street, N. Y
